Trans Pacific National Bank Announces Partnership with the Golden State Warriors

Trans Pacific National Bank in San Francisco announced today a new partnership with the Golden State Warriors. As part of this partnership strategy, TPNB will be able to offer TPNB Visa credit cards and banking services at select Warriors' home games, will host special events for TPNB customers and Warrior fans such as an exclusive appearance by Warriors' guard and Bay Area local Jeremy Lin, and special basketball events for local youths in the communities that TPNB serves.

The Warriors and TPNB will activate their partnership through various promotional and marketing programs, including unique and exclusive promotions for TPNB customers and various branding opportunities through Warriors' social media outlets and game broadcasts.

"Like the Warriors, Trans Pacific National Bank always strives to deliver its customers an unparalleled experience, which is just one reason this partnership is such a tremendous fit," said Michael Delucchi, EVP and Chief Administrative Officer for TPNB.

"Trans Pacific National Bank is a company with a strong commitment to the Bay Area, and we're excited about teaming up with them to launch programs that engage the best fans in the NBA," said Warriors' President Robert Rowell.
